[From a late Magazine.]

To one quoting the common ſaying, Words are but Wind.

WORDS are but Wind, you ſay; but don't you know,
Wind tears up trees, and Houſes down doth blow?
Of all the elements which can you find,
That brings to Man ſuch mitchief, as the wind?
The ſtrongeſt ſhips by the wind's fury toſt
Are daſh'd to pieces, or elſe ſunk and loſt.
Winds force the ſwelling waves beyond the ſtrand,
And make the boiling Sea o'er-flow the land
Winds kindle fires, and drive the raging flame
Beyond the pow'er of engines to reclaim.
Winds whirle the Clouds, and cauſe the earth to quake,
Make mountains walk, trees their old ſoil forſake.
All other elements may bounded be;
But who can bound the wind which none can ſee;
Fire may be quench'd by water; water may
By dams of earth be forc'd its courſe to ſtay.
Earth may, by art, be rais'd, by art depreſt,
As ſeems to the projecting owner beſt.
But wind, unruly wind can by no force,
Can by no art be hinder'd in its courſe,
Oppoſe firm works, to ſtrong for it to pierce,
'Twill mount the higher and become more fierce.
For human power can nothing raiſe ſo high,
O'er which the nimble wind can't ſoar and fly.
By ſwelling winds, in her deep caverns pent,
Our common mother's breaſt is rudely rent.
Wind in her ſtomach makes her ope her jaw,
And ſuck down cities to her ſpacious maw.
Wind in our bowels makes our vitals crack,
And far exceeds the torture of the rack.
Air is the region too, where the learn'd ſay,
Satan has greateſt pow'r his pranks to play.
Say then no more, Words are but wind, or, air,
Except thou would'ſt the two worſt things compare:
For there's a ſtrain of ſharp corroding words,
Wounds deeper, and hurts more than keeneſt ſwords.

A Letter from Geneva, Sept 17.

After the Arrival of the Courier Extraordinary diſpatch'd by M. Amelot to M. de la Cloſure the French Reſident here, that Miniſter communicated the Contents of his Diſpatches to the Repreſentatives of Zurich and Bern. The next Day, being the 21ſt, he went to the Council, where he made a fine Speech which has been printed, and read the Letter he received from M. Amelot The Council having re aſſembled the 23d, it was propoſed in it to accept the French King's Mediation, and a Reſolution was paſſed agreeable to that Propoſition, with this Reſtriction, that it ſhould not be contrary to the Edicts; the Tumult being ſo great that they durſt not abſolutely and ſimply accept the ſaid Mediation. The ſame Day the Members of the Council who had retired, wrote to the Reſident that they accepted the Mediation with Reſpect. The 24th the Reſident deſired the 34 Chiefs who had already preſented themſelves to him as Deputies for the 17 Companies of Burghers, to come to his Houſe, but they alledged divers Pretences to be diſpenſed with for coming; upon which the Reſident, who was ſtill willing to ſhew Marks of his Affection to the Burghers, diſperſed Copies of the Speech he deſigned to make to the Chiefs. The ſame Day the Council of 200 aſſembled, but no more than 12 or 15 Members were preſent; and the Council of 25, which aſſembled likewiſe, was reduced to ſeven or eight. The Malecontents were in ſo great a Ferment, that moſt of their Demands were granted; but ſuch Members of the Council as went to make a Report of the Matter to the Reſident and the Repreſentatives of Zurich and Bern, met with a bad Reception, and were anſwered, That all they had done was null and illegal, and that whatever they tranſacted for the future on this Foundation ſhould be deemed the ſame: After which the Reſident gave the Chiefs of the Malecontents to underſtand that he would give them two Days more to reſolve whether they would accept the Mediation purely and ſimply or not. Of the 17 Companies which aſſembled the 25, ten accepted the Mediation, and ſeven rejected it; but the next Day Six out of the Seven accepted it likewiſe. During the Height of the Tumults, the firſt Sindic took Sanctuary in the Houſe of Repreſentatives, and ſeveral other Magiſtrates retired to the Reſident's whoſe Houſe has been filled with their moſt valuable Effects.

LONDON, October 4.

By Letters from Vienna we are informed, that they are in daily Expectation of a Courier with an Account of what may have happened at Ulchiza, about five Days march from Zwornick. This Court has received Advices of the 1ſt Inſtant from Felt Marſhal Munich's Army, that he intended to march to Bielgorod upon the Black-Sea, and to take that Place; in which Undertaking it is thought he may be able to ſucced, with the Help of the Ruſſian Fleet. His Royal Highneſs the Duke of Lorrain is much in the State of Health that he was three Days ago.

The Accounts from the Army in Hungary repreſent the Imperialiſts to be in a weak Condition, Numbers of Men being carried off daily by Sickneſs, occaſioned by bad Weather and want of Proviſions; particularly the Body of Troops commanded by the Prince of Saxe-Hildburghauſen, encamped near Gradiſca was conſiderably reduced; and even the People of that Country, tho' uſed to Change of Weather, ſuffered much by the Mortality that has ſpread among them. The Mortality had likewiſe begun to ſeize the Cattle.

From

From Conſtantinople, that through the Porte's inſinuating to Thomas Kouli Kan the Danger that the Ottoman Empire would be in, and conſequently all the other Princes in Aſia, from the Junction of Ruſſia and the Emperor; and what weighed ſtill more with him than the moſt powerful Suggeſtions, was, an Offer made by the Porte to yield up to him two or three neighbouring Provinces more than that he is gratted by the laſt Treaty: By theſe Means he has been induced to ſend an Ambaſſador to the Porte, who ſince his Arrival has had frequent Conferences with the Kaimacam. It's reported, that the Perſian Prince will ſupply the Porte with 160,000 Men.

Oct 6. By a private Letter from Amſterdam we learn, that the Conferences begun at Antwerp for forming a new Tarif, have been interrupted by the Difficulties that the Demands of the Imperial Commiſſaries have raiſed, ſome of which have a ſtrong Tendency to diminiſh the Subſidies given by the Emperor to the States General, by vertue of the Barrier Treaty, for the Maintenance of the Troops that their High Mightineſſes have in Garriſon in the Towns in Flanders. The Dutch Commiſſaries were not only ſurpriſed with theſe Demands, but likewiſe at the Haughtineſs of rejecting as invalid the 115 Grievances repreſented by them, and at the Imperial Commiſſaries declaring, that his Imperial Majeſty in aboliſhing the Oſtend Company, intended one Day to make his Subjects of the Auſtrian Netherlands full Satisfaction for the Loſs they ſuſtain'd in the Suppreſſion of that Eſtabliſhment; and nothing could be more natural than that he ſhould procure them this Satisfaction by a new Tarif. The Commiſſaries of England and Holland have proviſionally demanded, that an exact Liſt of the Merchandizes which come in and go out of the Auſtrian Low Countries may be deliver'd them, with a Specification of the Cuſtoms deſign'd to be exacted by a new Tarif. It's foreſeen that theſe Cuſtoms will be greatly advanc'd; and upon the Refuſal of Great Britain and the States General to acquieſce therein, the Commiſſaries of the Emperor will propoſe this alternative, either to agree to the Stipulation of theſe new Cuſtoms, or to permit the Oſtend Company annually to ſend Ships to the Eaſt Indies. In order to prevent the Inconveniencies that might happen from the latter Part of this Propoſition, the Dutch Commiſſaries have Orders from the Eaſt India Company eſtabliſhed in Holland, to purchaſe the Factories of the Oſtend Company, which the Emperor has undoubtedly ordered to be ſold. Theſe Factories can be of no great Advantage to the Dutch: But what moſt powerfully engages them to make this Purchaſe, is to hinder the Danes or Swedes from buying them, which would tend highly to the Prejudice of their own Eaſt India Company. Upon this Occaſion it's natural to call to mind the large Sum of Money that was paid heretofore to the King of Pruſſia, for a Fort which belong'd to him call'd Arquin, upon the Coaſt of Africa, and that with no other view than to prevent the Navigation and Commerce of other Nations from extending itſelf.

CHARLES TOWN, January 5.

On the 23d of laſt Month ſail'd from hence for London, on board the Samuel, Hugh Pierce Commander, the Rev. Mr. John Weſley late Miniſter of Savannah in the Province of Georgia. On Auguſt 7 laſt Mr. Weſley repell'd Mrs. Sophia Chriſtiana Williamſon, Niece of Thomas Cauſton Eſq; firſt Bailiff of Savannah, from the Holy Communion, for not giving Notice, according to the Rubrick, of her Intention to communicate, and for ſeveral other Reaſons, of which he had apprized her before, both by ſpeaking to her and in writing. Auguſt 9. Mr Weſley was apprehended for ſo doing, by virtue of a Warrant from the Recorder, carried before the Magiſtrates, and order'd to appear at the next Court holden for the ſaid Town. Auguſt 16. Mrs. Williamſon ſwore to and ſign'd THE AFFIDAVIT, a memorable Inſtance of Truth and Gratitude. Auguſt 23. The Grand Jury of Savannah indicted Mr. Weſley for repelling Mrs Williamſon from the Holy Communion, as likewiſe for ſpeaking and writing to her againſt her Husband's Conſent. Auguſt 31. The ſame Grand Jury found eight other Indictments againſt Mr. Weſley, For reading the Litany before Six in the Morning, for obſerving the Rubrick in the Office for publick Baptiſm, and for divers other Facts, equally notorious: All which they did upon their Oaths aver to be contrary to the Peace of our Sovereign Lord the King, his Crown and Dignity. On the 2d Dec Mr. Weſley was made a Priſoner, and the ſame Evening he left the Province.

Whereas a Paragraph ſent from Georgia by ſome evil minded Perſon, was publiſhed in the Carolina Gazette, January the 1ſt, 1737, in the Words following, viz.

The ſame Evening (Dec 15) Joſeph Watſon a Lunatick (confin'd here by a ſpecial Order from the Truſtees) having found Means to break looſe from his Keeper, committed ſeveral Outrages in the Town, but being ſoon retaken was prevented from doing any Miſchief.

I do hereby beg the ſaid Mr Watſon's Pardon for the Injury done him, by publiſhing the ſaid Paragraph, being now fully aſſured by ſeveral Perſons of undoubted veracity, and who are willing to confirm the ſame by Oath, that the ſaid Paragraph is a ſcandalous Untruth, for that the ſaid Joſeph Watſon did commit no Outrage at all at the time, and alſo that he hath never been Lunatick; but of ſound Mind and Underſtanding ever ſince his Arrival in Georgia, tho' according to Solomon he hath met with Oppoſition enough to make a wiſe Man mad.

We hear that on Thurſday laſt the Barn of Mr. John Fairchild at Woſſamſaw, with all his Crop, was burnt down to the Ground.
